

For our youngest writers, we focus on capturing on paper all their wonderful thoughts and ideas. As emergent writers it is important to develop confidence, as well as developing some great writing techniques.

Perfect Poetry

Just how do you make the perfect poem? What ingredients go into it? Throughout the week we'll work through nouns, adjectives, similies and alliteration and realise our poetry ingredients. From here we'll look at patterns in poetry and making the reader interested in your work until we've baked the perfect Poetry Pancakes!

Monday
On the hunt for a Noun We will get to meet our young group of writers today! After getting to know each other we will delve into scavenging for nouns. We'll go on a hunt for as many as possible around the Faust office and see how we can use them within our work and alongside some adjectives.
Tuesday
Doing activities, for doing words Today we'll take part in lots of practical activities that help us to find and use verbs. We'll be creating pipe cleaner men and eating our way into contextualising what a verb is and what it does within a sentence.
Thursday
Stupendous Similies and Awesome Alliteration Using similies and alliteration we'll play games that get us creating silly sentences. We'll create our own Monsterous Menu with a lot of alliteration and look at the use of similies in the world around us.
Friday
Rhyming Fun "Muffin McLay like a bundle of Hay" - Today we'll be looking at rhyme, how we use it, when we use it and why we use it. We'll be reading poems and stories that involve rhyme and look where we should use it before creating our own rhymes.
Saturday
What does a poem look like? Poems come in alsorts of shapes and sizes, today we'll be looking at different styles of poem from concrete poetry to haikus and acrostic. Working on our own and in groups we'll make use of all the work we've done this week and show our progress within our work.
