

Specialised Workshop At the Faust Studio

13th Floor, Fu Fai Commercial Centre, 27 Hillier Street, Sheung Wan, Hong Kong

Dance, Wriggle and Roll!

A dance workshop for ages 5 - 7

Friday 13th November 2009, 4.00pm - 6.00pm

This workshop will explore telling stories through dance, which is sometimes known as physical theatre. This specialised workshop for our younger members will focus completely on movement and how it can inspire and develop drama and storytelling.

We will be exploring the theme of 'Where the Land reaches the Sea' to develop a movement piece that tells the story of how we are all connected in nature and that without one the other cannot exist. Children will explore different dance styles and start to learn about where these movements came from. Children will use everyday actions as inspiration to build their dance pieces.

Movement is one of the major acting tools that contributes to an engaging performance. Through this workshop children will learn to use basic acting techniques to change simple gestures into expressive and dynamic movements.

This workshop will be a fun introduction to dance and movement. It will also help children become more confident in expressing themselves physically. It's time to get those dancing shoes on!

No prior-dance experience is needed but an enthusiasm to join in is essential. This will be an energetic and hands on workshop!

Shiona Carson Workshop Leader

Shiona has worked in the performing arts and education in a wide variety of roles. She completed her Bachelor's degree from the Queensland University of Technology where she received distinction in drama. She was a drama tutor and dance instructor for many years in Australia, encouraging children to build their confidence and performance skills. She came to Hong Kong in 2006 and has directed plays and musicals at local primary and secondary schools. Highlights include The Wizard of Oz and Between the Lines which was performed at the Hong Kong Cultural Centre Studio. Shiona has also trained primary school students for the Trinity and Guildhall Speech and Drama Exams. Outside of the classroom Shiona always finds time to practice what she teaches as an actress, director, choreographer and dancer.
